Agenda

- Guidance on preparing the HLD (due today).
- Confirm persona, milestones and design-principle requirements.
- MoM process and meeting cadence.

Discussion & Key Points

- MoM process: Vishal to prepare the Minutes of Meeting on the shared template, combine the MoM and the covering email into a single PDF, and upload it to the Group 6 drive folder.
- The HLD must clearly contain: (1) Persona — the end user (primary-school teachers teaching basic maths/science); (2) Milestones — three milestones with delivery dates, delivered every two weeks; (3) Design principles — justification for each feature/screen (why each element is needed).
- Scope of “AI literacy” = how to use AI (prompting, creating Gems); it will not teach AI theory/fundamentals (e.g., clustering).
- Persona focus: target beginners with little or no prior AI experience.
- Client’s suggested three milestones — M1: teachers can sign in and are taught to create and use their own API key inside the system (key never taken out/stored). M2: prompt practice with feedback — the system analyses the teacher’s prompt and flags missing parts (agent/role persona, end-user persona, output format, etc.), using a framework such as CRAFT / LEARN-LM. M3: Gemini Gems (a reusable wrapper + RAG) and NotebookLM (upload material → audio overview, mind map, infographics, data table, quiz, flashcards); teachers create and test, and the team gives feedback.
- Demo goal expressed by the client: a teacher should be able to interact with the platform for ~30 minutes and walk out knowing how to actually use AI in their work.

Decisions

- HLD to be submitted by end of day today; the document will be signed once complete.
- Weekly client meeting fixed for Friday 10:00 AM; the team to ask the TA to schedule a recurring slot.
